

Infinity Seats and Infinity Benches can be connected end to end to form continuous, extended length seats or benches by linking standard dimension products in combinations that meet the desired overall length.

While use of standard length components is most cost effective, custom lengths can be specified to meet individual site or installation criteria. However, the maximum free span of an individual bench is 96". The 96" bench is special order.

Infinity seats have arms integrated with the end frames. There is no center arm option. If center arms are required, shorter seat spans can be specified to provide interim supports with arms.

Only the XS base is shown although any of the Infinity base options can be specified. Custom bases or other mounting solutions are also possible.
